It was smiles all round at Brigidine School as staff and students celebrated a 100 per cent pass rate.

Chanelle A'Court was one of the top achievers celebrating two A grades in textiles and fine art.

Elizabeth Robinson, headteacher at the school in Kings's Road, said: "Chanelle also ice skates at a professional level and has managed to fit it all around school. Her work is absolutely fantastic and she almost scored full marks in textiles and art."

All nine students who sat the exam got A in E grades coat and 83 per cent got A to C grades, which was up from 70 per cent last year.

Mrs Robinson, added: "It is fantastic. I am absolutely delighted. Staff have worked really hard and with the results the girls have achieved they all got into higher education. The students have really benefited from the small classes."

Two other students, Sophie Langton and Wan Sze Cheung, were also celebrating As in art and textiles.

Sophie, 18, said: "I was really relieved and will be going to the London College of Fashion."
